SCHOOL COMMITTEE

-OF THE

TOWN OF ROCHESTER,

FOR THE YEAR 1858-9.

ROCHESTER, N. H.
D. WARREN FURBER, PRINTER—REVIEW OFFICE.
1859.

REPORT.

THE Superintending School Committee, in compliance with the law, respectfully submit the following.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The Summer Term of this School was taught by Miss Sarah J. Tebbets. The School appeared, when visited by the Committee, to have made a good beginning, but it closed sooner than was expected; and the Committee, not being present, can make no report of its progress.

The Winter Term of eleven weeks was taught by William H. Bragdon, it being the second term in this district. Mr. Bragdon is well qualified, and maintained his former reputation as a teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

The Summer School was kept by Miss Lucy H. Roberts. The order in this school was pretty good, and the scholars appeared very well.

The Winter School was kept by Miss Mary E. Horn, of Somersworth, a young, inexperienced teacher. The instruction in this school was not so thorough and critical as is desirable.

DISTRICT NO 8.

The Summer School was under the charge of Miss Hannah M. Webster, of Dover. Miss Webster succeeded very much to the satisfaction of her employers. The recitations of the several classes bere strong marks of the ability of the teacher, and of diligence and study on the part; of the scholars. It appeared that the teacher had urged upon her scholars the importance of attending well to the elementary principles of Orthography—a branch of study which deserves more attention than it has hitherto received.

The winter school was kept by Mr. William B Wiggin, of Sandwich. This school has suffered much from provalent epidemics, which rendered the attendance semewhat irregular. Mr. Wiggin was very much interested in the wellfare of his school, and accomplished, perhaps, all that could have been expected under the circumstances.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Martha T. Jenness. Here we found one of the pleasantest schools we ever witnessed; The carnest efforts of the teacher to benefit the scholars, and their affectionate response rendered this school both pleasant and profitable.

The winter term was taught by Mr. Buzzell, a good teacher. The school has made quite an improvement under his instruction, he has endeavored to do his duty faithfully.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Lucy A McDuffee, Miss McDuffee is ever able and willing to do her duty in the school room; the scholars were very regular in their attendance, and were profited by the instruction given them.

The winter term was taught by Miss Caverno, of Barrington, who has discharged her duties faithfully. The attendance has been quite regular. At the visits of the committee, it was evident that the teacher knew how to do her duty, and was willing and able to do it.

DISTRICT NO. 6. THE PROPERTY OF A THE PARTY OF THE PARTY

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Amanda S. Ham, a very good teacher. There was quite an improvement made in this school, the scholars seemed well disposed and inclined to be studious.

The winter term was taught by Mr. Henry R. Abbott. The school this term has made a decided improvement.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Lucy A, McDuffee, an excellent teacher, although she labored under the disadvantage of an inconvenient room, together with a large number of scholars, which made her task very hard, yet the school made fine progress.

The winter term was taught by Mr. G. F. Hobbs, a superior teacher for a young man, there was good order maintained in this school, and a very decided improvement in the studies pursued.

This district during the past summer has built a splendid School House at the cost of about $1800, which reflects much credit upon the enterprise of its inhabitants.

DISTRICT NO. 8,

The number of schools in this district are five; one Grammar school, three Intermediate, and one Primary.

The Grammar school was taught the past year by Mr. Wm. A. Kimball. This school has been under Mr. Kimball's instruction for some years previous to this, and we think from the appearance of the school, that Mr. Kimball is worthy of the reputation of an able and efficient teacher. At the visits of the committee; the school gave good evidence of diligent attention of the scholars to the various branches of study pursued, and also of thorough instruction on the part of the teacher.

The teacher in the Intermediate schools, the past year have been Miss Nancy L. Richardson, Miss Eliza J. Day, and Miss Sarah W. Pray, excellent and successful teachers; under whose instruction the schools have made good improvement. We think they have performed the duties devolving upon them with a conscious fidelity, and with feelings of that responsibility which should rest upon teachers. These schools, as well as the others, notwithstanding have been subjected to a hindrance, which will always retard the general progress, wherever it is suffered to exist by parents and guardians of scholars, namely, that of some of the scholars, either from some fancy of their own, or some trifling offence, to leave and go to some other school; no teacher should admit any scholar after their homes in school have been assigned them by the Committee, without direct authority from the same.

The Primary School was taught by Miss Anna S. Chapman who acquitted herself in an acceptable manner.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Lydia Pray. This school has made quite a perceptible progress, so ther as we can judge Miss Pray has labored fathfully to do her duty.

The winter term of this school was taught by Mr. Wilson K. Lindsay, a young man well adapted to the school, as he won the esteem of the scholars at the commencement which is a very necessary requisits in this school, the attendance was regular and quite an improvement made.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Miss Hattie E. Dame taught the school in this district during the summer, who manifested good judgment in the management and discipline of her school, but before this school can be what it should be, the district must be more united than it has been for the past few years. This was Miss Dame's first appearance in the character of a teacher, and doubtless with age and experience, she will become one of our best teachers. The winter term was taught by David Hayes of Rochester. The school house, or rather the shanty which is used for a school house in this district, is wholly unfit for the purpose for which it was designed. It would require the expenditure of more than fifty dollars, to render this school house a respectable abode for hogs, cattle or hens, and its only claim to respect from scholars or parents, is its advanced age, and the legends told by their grand-parents connected with its early history.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Abbie M. Swaiu, of Strafford. This school at the commencement appeared rather restless, owing to former discipline, at the close quite an improvement was found.

The winter term was taught by Mr. Olney T. Medder, a very good teacher for a young man, he appeared to maintain good order the school made good improvement,

DISTRICT NO. 12.

The summer school was taught by Miss Caroline M. Barker under whose discipline the school appeared well, good order was observed and considerable interest manifested.

The winter school was kept by Mr. Charles C. Hayes, of Farmington, who as a teacher deservedly ranks high. This teacher is perfectly at home in the school room, well knows his duty and is willing and amply able to do it. His aim appeared to be a thoroughness in all the recitations rather than to glide superficially over much space. We consider Mr. Hayes one of our best teachers.

The school house in this district is badly constructed and much out of repair, nothing can be said in its favor, except the ravages of time have rendered it very well ventilated.—
Considering the wealth of the district, this school house is not what it should be, and we hope before they have another school to see one creeted there that shall be a credit to the district.

PISTRICT NO. 13.

Summer School taught by Miss Hattie Hobbs, of Wakefield, who is a diligent, faithful and successful teacher. The order, progress and deportment of the scholars was very good.

The Winter School was taught by Mr. Benj. Hobbs, who, though a young teacher, seemed to have a due appreciation of the importance of good order, and hesitated not to enforce it, even at the expense of a little severity. The school was rather backward, but a good degree of advancement was manifested at its close.

DISTRICT NO. 1L

The Summer School was taught by Mrs. Delia Nute, of Farmington. The number of scholars in this school is too small to excite that spirit of emulation and afford that variety in the exercises, which are indispensable to a good school. It was clear, however, that the teacher has endeavored to discharge her duty—to make them read carefully and not fast, and to impress them with the advantage of reading a few pages well, over reading many pages carelessly. Classes in grammar, arithmetic and geography were taught on the same principles, and were well drilled with elements.

The Winter Term was taught by Miss Augusta Dame, of Rochester, with commondable success. The progress and advancement in the several branches taught was fair.

DISTRICT NO. 15.

The Summer and Winter Terms of this School were kept by Miss Eliza J. Downs of Rochester. The Summer Term gave general satisfaction. We hink Miss Downs labored hard for the good of her pupils, and they were profited by her instructions.

During the Winter Term the scholars were large boys, usury of them. We have no doubt the school was conducted as well as could be expected of a young lady of her experience and age. We would recommend to Prudential Committees to hire male teachers instead of females for winter schools, especially where there are many large boys and girls.

DISTRICT NO. 16.

United with Milton.

DISTRICT NO. 17.

The Summer Yerm of this school was taught by Susan R.

Canney, who made a perfect failure in her efforts to keep order. A portion of the scholars seemed to understand for what purpose schools were instituted, and to attach a value to the privilege they enjoyed. But some of the larger ones were perfectly devoid of any sense of property, and seemed to have suffered much from the want of good training. This portion of the school was very backward and made but little progoess.

The Winter Term was taught by David Hayes of Rochester. This school was easily governed and good order was maintained throughout, without resorting to corporeal punishment in a single instance. The most of the scholars were very much interested, and very punctual in their attendance, and the result was a degree of improvement highly commendable on their part.

DISTRICT NO. 18.

Both terms of this school were taught by Miss Laura S. Horn, of Somersworth. The Committee were highly pleased with the recitations and order of this school, and the faithful manner of imparting instruction and securing the good will of the scholars. All the classes appeared well, and it would be difficult to select the class that had made the greatest improvement. On the whole, we think this school was exceeded by none and equalled by few.

DISTRICT NO. 19.

The Summer and Winter Terms of this school were taught by Miss Harriet N. Corson, a superior teacher. There was good order, and everything about this school that constitutes a good school.

DISTRICT NO. 20.

Both terms of this school were taught by Miss Angelina

Hayes, an admirable teacher. Although this school is quite small in regard to numbers, yet it is very interesting on account of the modest appearance and good discipline of the pupils. There has been a marked improvement in this school.

To this specific Report of the Schools in the several districts, we will add a few suggestions, which are of a general nature, and equally applicable to all the schools.

In the first place, to parents we would say, teachers are in great need of your hearty co-operation and sympathy. Your verbal assurance that you sympathize with them, is not sufficient. You should make it practically evident that you are interested in the work of the teacher, and anxious for his suc-Trust not implicitly in the fidelity of his efforts, until you have seen him with your own eyes in the exercise of the functions of his office. You should visit the school frequently. Nothing short of your personal presence in the school room, will indicate satisfactorily to your children the sincerity of your pretensions. Parents may aid and sustain the teacher by their co-operation and influence, or they may frustrate his best directed efforts by their ill-timed remarks and opposition, and render the school an unpleasant one for him, and an unprofitable one for their children. The influence of the parents should always be thrown on the side of the teacher, and no word of disapproval should ever be dropped in the presence of the child.

The pupil should always be given to understand, that he has nothing to do in the government of the school. If the teacher has, in your opinion, been unnecessarily severe, a private, friendly interview with him, would in most cases, result in a perfect understanding of circumstances and mutual good will. There are influences stronger than those of the teacher. They parent is doomed to disappointment who expects the teacher, in a few short weeks, to correct those habits which have been suffered to pass unrebuked at home, and to neutralize those influences which the parent is continually exerting by precept and example—in short, to accomplish in a few days what he himself has in vain labored to effect in many years. Therefore let parents first make a wise and judicious selection of a teacher, and then give him their entire confidence and support. And when you have secured a good teacher, keep him. A survey of those schools that have been taught for several successive forms by the same teacher, will furnish ample proof of the importance of this suggestion.

The Superintending School Committee of Rochester, having attended to the duties of their office, beg leave to present the following REPORT.

The number of School Districts in town is 20; the number of schools is 23, there being five schools in the Plains district, and one in each of the others, except District No. 16, which is united to Milton. In each of the districts under our superintendence, there has been the usual length of schooling, there having been two terms in each district. The general character of the schools has been about on an average with the schools usually, under our system of school regulations, -some very good, some fair, some moderate, and some decidedly poor. And your Committee see not how it can be much. if any, different, under the system. What they mean is that the system of having a Prudential Committee to engage and employ teachers, without much, if any, knowledge of their qualifications to instruct, and send them to the Sup. School Committee on the morning the school is to commence, to be examined, or allowing them to commence their schools without examination, and be examined, or net, as may suit their convenience, places the Sup. School Committee in such an embarrassing position, that they cannot well do their duty to all parties without generating trouble in the districts, and engendering ill feelings towards the Prudential Committees, and between the two committees themselves. However feasible the theory may seem, the practical working of it is decidedly unfavorable, impolitic and unjust.

In the opinion of your Committee, the system ought to be so changed, that the examination, engagement and employment of teachers should be in the hands of one committee, who should attend to the labor for the whole town; so that, before any one is engaged as a teacher, the committee may have fair and ample opportunity of learning something about what the qualifications, may be for such a position before it is occupied. Under the present system there is a measure of injustice done to the young man or woman who is desirous of teaching, and knows not but that they shall be permitted to teach until the time of the commencement, of the school, when they may find themselves disappointed in their expectations, and the season for engagement past. And hence it is that your committee have felt constrained to yield, to some degree, to the wishes and expectations of the persons engaged to teach, and to the feelings of those who engaged them. Whereas, if they had known in sufficient season-that is, before engagement was made they would have rejected some applications which they suffer to go. And your committee found it next to impossible to avoid it, under the working of the present system. It has be near the real to guide or Laboring under these difficulties, your Committee have sanctioned as teachers some applicants who, under another system, they would have rejected. This fact will account for some of the evils which are incident to our schools generally, and which have been incurred in a few instances in our town the past year. Your Committee are aware that such a procedure will be condemned by many persons; but yet they have endeavored to be as faithful to all parties concerned as they could. They have felt deeply interested for the successful moral and educational progress of the scholars, and the prosperity of the schools. Education prevents crime To neglect, therefore, the proper supervision of the teachers and schools, is to neglect a duty for which no subsequent regrets can atone. Within the limits of their responsibility, consequently they feel free to say, they have done the best they could for the interests of the schools of the districts, and they feel relieved from the responsibilities of those whose duty it is made to be to engage and employ the teachers for their children.

But let it be observed here, that however much the principle adopted by your Committee may be condemned, it has ever been, and it ever will and must be, the principle adopted for practice, so long as the present school system continues. For supposing the standard of qualifications for teachers had been placed so high by your Committee, that one half of the applicants had been rejected, and the Prudential Committees had not known but that their engagements were suitable in the estimation of the Sup. School Committee, until the morning of the commencement of their schools, how difficult and perplexing would their positions to their districts have been rendered. They must now seek new candidates, who would be more likely to be unqualified persons than otherwise, because they might be the rejected applicants from other towns. Thus a little, and but a little, of the difficulty in the practical working of our common school system may be seen.

school Books.

Your Committee are well aware of the troublesome, expensive and unnecessary annoyances of "School Book Exchanges." Most of all is the expensive feature of them, and they deserve much of the condemnation which they get. This your Committee have well considered. They found, as they entered upon their duties, a great variety of text-books in all of the districts-often three, and sometimes four different Readers for the same grade of scholars. Almost in every district of school there were found two sets of Readers for the pupils who should have been in one class. And not only in Readers, but precisely the same feature presented itself in the Arithmetic and Grammar, and also Spelling classes. What else could your Committee do, as men faithful to their duties, but reduce these different text books from many to one, in order to secure uniformity in the several schools, prevent the necessity of procuring new books when removing from one district to another, and save the time both of teachers and pupils, that the term of schooling might be as profitable as possible? In conformity with this principle, they have endeavored to make that text book which was most generally used in town the standard book. And thus they have made almost uniform the Reading and Arithmetical text-books. As to the Grammar, they found the same feature in the schools, and hope the many different ones, almost all of them badly worn, have given place to one which may long remain a standard. The text-books thus introduced are-1, The series of Progressive Readers; 2, The Greenleaf series of Arithmetics; 3, Brown's Grammar; and 4, The Progresive Speller. These series of textbooks your Committee would suggest be adopted for the town for a term of years-for at least five years; for if a book is fit to be introduced at all, it is fit to remain certainly for that term.

OBSTACLES TO SUCCESS IN SCHOOLS.

The obstacles which are found to work most seriously to the disadvantage of the schools, are, in the first place, unqualified teachers, to which allusion has been made. This is the most serious. We do not mean, by want of qualifications, a lack of scholarship, merely; but what we mean is, the deficiencies in the refinements and courtesies of life. It is true of many well, educated men and women, that they are sadly deficient in those qualifications which fit one for the school-room, and they ought never to enter it. There are influences in the school-room which it is impossible not to feel, and, though subtle in themselves and difficult to describe, yet they are a true revelation of the qualifications of the teacher, and the criterion of judgment for the visiter as to the good or bad results of his or, her labors. There is an accomplishment, essential for success, which always shows itself in the intercourse of the teacher and pupils with each, other, If wanting, however well qualified the teacher may be in mere intellectual attainments, the school will be a failure. If possessed, it will be successful, and the more so, if associated with high educational qualifications. We should have teachers male and female-for a service so important as the training of our children who are accomplished, and refined, and worthy, and who have higher aims and nobler aspirations and purposes than mere intellectual display, or the remuneration for the services rendered. We should secure the best teachers, morally and intellectually, as far as possible, and, when once obtained, secure them for succeeding terms, by increasing their wages, if necessary. The cheapest articles are always found to be the dearest, and the dearest the cheapest. The better the character of the living example is, that we place before our children, in educational attainments, in social refinements and pleasantness, and in moral accomplishments, in the persons and intercourse of teachers for them, the more profitably will money be expended, and the better satisfaction will the districts receive.

The second obstacle to success in the schools, is the irregular attendance of the pupils. There is but one remedy for this, and that is, regular attendance. This regular attendance should be required and enforced by parents. This ought to be secured, or the pupil should be shut out from the school; for a great injury is done to the pupil's mind, who is suffered to be irregular, while the routine of a school is often much disturbed, and its profit to others hazarded, by his appearance or non-appearance at pleasure. The third obstacle is the miserable school-house, the dark, gloomy, repulsive, sepulchral, poverty-stricken schoolhouse. Your Committee are proud of several houses recently built, or remodelled, with modern improvements, and the districts and the town may well be proud of them. We would advise all the other districts to follow the noble example set them in these newly built and newly repaired school-houses, as seen in the Gonic, the Meaderboro', the Louis McDuffee, and the Flagg Districts, and also the Poor Farm District. stylen and II would and the factor of more

The schools and their teachersh with their several characters, are as follows: could never each guidhad doing to District No. 1 (Isaac Libbey.) Teacher in summer, Miss Ellen F. Wentworth; in winter, Josiah B. Sanborn. The summer term was very successful. The winter term began and promised well, but closed unseasonably in consequence of the sickness of the teacher, and hence was not seen by the committee.

District No. 1—(Jesse Horn.) Teacher in summer, Miss Sarah A. Varney; in winter, Miss Susah Tebbetts. The teachers were interested, and labored industriously for the progress of the scholars, and their efforts were successful, though a more marked improvement was visible at the close of the second term than the first.

District No. 3—(Louis McDuffee.) Teacher in summer, Miss Marianna Sanborn; in winter, Charles W. Yeaton. They both did well for the district and for the pupils.

District No. 4—(Pickering's Crossing.) Teacher in summer, Miss Martha T. Jenness; in winter, J. D. Thompson. These were both very pleasant and successful schools. District No. 5—(Jas. Y. Hayes.) Teacher in summer, Miss Ruth A. Ham; in winter, — Buzzell. Good schools both terms.

Disraict No. 6—(Agron Flagg.) Teacher in summer, Miss Melinda J. Foss; in winter, James J. Meader. The summer term was unsuccessful—the teacher being inadequate to the task. The winter term was a very profitable one.

District No. 7—(Gonic.) Teacher in summer, Miss Lucy A. McDuffee; in winter, S. S. Caswell. The summer term of this school commenced very favorably, but was not visited by the committee again, as they were not notified of its close. The accomplishments and qualifications of the instructors were of the best character. The winter term was a very profitable one.

District No. 8 (Plains.) In this district there were ave schools taught during the year, two terms each. In the brick building there were three schools, one on Wakefield street, and one on Farmington road above the bridge. The High School was taught by Mr. H. M. Sanborn, who was exceedingly popular as a teacher, and not only won the affections of the pupils generally, but was regarded by the majority of the committee as eminently successful.

The Intermediate School was taught by Miss Mary Ann Brown: Her success was very satisfactory—she being both faithful and industrious.

The Primary School, taught in the brick building, was under the care of Miss Anna F. Chapman, whose school the committee regard as a model in many respects.

Primary School on Wakefield street was taught by Miss Sarah F. Mathes. This school was well taught and showed a commendable degree of advancement. The teacher, however, the committee think is better fitted for a school of a higher grade, both in qualification and method of teaching.

Primary School above the bridge was taught by Miss Sarah W. Pray—an experienced teacher—whose efforts for the advancement of the pupils were untiring, and the success good, considering the obstacles to be overcome.

DISTRICT No. 9—(Adams' Corner.) Taught in summer by Miss Sophia O. Hewes, in winter by Noah Sanborn—both of whom gave good satisfaction, having had much experience in teaching.

District No 10—(Poor Farm). Teacher in summer Miss S. B. Waldron, in winter by Miss Hannah J. Varney. Both of the teachers were interested in their duties and the schools were profitable.

District No. 11—(Wm. Whitehouse) This school was taught both terms by Miss Jennie S. Evans. A commendable advance by the pupils was the result of the teacher's labors—but the house is in a sad condition, by Miss Harriet Canney—in winter by Mr. J. O. Stanton. This school in summer was a failure, the teacher being inadequate to the task; but in winter the school was very successful, having been one of the best conducted in town.

DETRICT No. 12- (Meaderboro'.) Taught in summer

District No. 13—(Moses Page.) Teacher in summer Miss M. Carrie Downs, in winter by George G. Harriman. The Committee were not notified of the close of the summer term, and hence cannot judge of the progress made The winter term was a good one.

DISTRICT No. 14—(James Brown.) Taught in summer by Miss Eliza J. Day, in winter by Amanda S. Ham.—These schools were both good ones—the latter in a marked degree.

DISTRICT No. 15—(Chestnut Hills.) Teacher in summer Miss Susan Tebbets in winter J. S. Harriman. The summer term was closed without the committee's being notified—but the teacher's success in another district lead us to infer that the school was successful. The winter was quite successful.

DISTRICT No. 16. - United with Milton.

District No. 17—(Silas Hussey.) Teacher for both terms, Miss Augusta Dame. Good satisfaction was given—but the success of the school was in a measure impeded by the sickness of the scholars.

District No. 18—(Bidfield Meserve.) This school was taught both terms by Miss, and when first visited by the committee promised well—but having been suspended for a season, the committee had no opportunity of visiting it a second time before making their report.

District No. 19—(Shorey's Mills.) Taught in Summer by Miss Helen S. Horne. in Winter by Mr.——Hilton The summer school was the first the instructress ever taught; but her success was good and her labors profitable. The teacher for the winter term was sautioned by the Committee with some degree of reluctance. The school was but five weeks in length, which was too short to be of much if any profit. The Committee would advise that a female teacher be employed where the funds are insufficient for the employment for a longer term.

District No. 20.—Taught both terms by Miss Julia A. Hayes, who made her little school both pleasant and profitable.

We have to complain of the tardiness of the teachers in returning their Registers to us, and of their incompleteness when received. Very few have been returned fully, or even satisfactorily made out, and some are culpably deficient in the statistical information required to be given to the Committee, to enable them to make a full and true report to the State. We hope teachers will be more particular in the future.

Some of the schools have made a commendable cducational progress; while others, and especially those where the children have been imperfectly provided for, and where the school house accommodations have been heglected, the advancement has not been so well. Some of the school-houses are unfit for the purposes of education, No valuable educational progress can be made, or expected, where the people neglect to provide suitable, and neat, and properly furnished houses for the accommodation of the scholars, and take an interest themselves in the education of their children. The teachers in all, however, have shown a commendable zeal in studying and laboring to qualify themselves for the duties devolving on them, and to morally and educationally benefit the pupils and second the efforts of the committee. When the teachers carry ever with them the consciousness that there is no higher department of useful labor here, than that of giving direction, or strengthening in a right direction, the opening and developing minds around them and none others should be employed to teach our children—many, perhaps, of the embarrassing and opposing influences of illy provided school-rooms may be neutralized. But this is no ground for neglecting the place where our little ones are living, and living to study and prepare for the responsibilities of mature life, for six or seven hours in every day. The more attractive and pleasant the school houses are made to be, the better the moral and intellectual proficiency of those taught in them.

The accompanying tables will be found to possess valuable information, and cannot fail to be of interest as a statistical exhibit of the schools and publis, and of the moneys provided for their support. They have been prepared with much care.

Permit us to add, in closing our report, and closing, also, this year of our superintendency, that the schools generally have prospered. Our action has not been marred by any sectional, sectarian, or political interests. We have had no interest to serve but the best interests of the several schools. And with this feeling, we respectfully submit our report.

WILLIAM HEWES, JAS. H. EDGERLY, JAMES M. PALMER, Committee.

JOHN F. McDUFFEE, SIMON WENTWORTH, WALTER B. K. HODGDON, Rochester

MARCH 2nd, 1863.

We hereby certify that we have examined the foregoing accounts of the Town of Rochester, for the year ending March 1, 1863, and find the same well vouched and correctly cast, and find due the Town from the Selectmen, Ninety-one dollars and seventy-seven cents.

JOHN McDUFFEE, JOHN W. FURBER, Auditors.

Note. The Selectmen recommend the selling of the growth on the Town Farm and of laying out the money or such part of it as the town think proper, in purchasing a wood lot, for the reason that there is but a small portion of pasturing on the farm and it is quite necessary that there should be more cows kept on the Farm than what is now kept.

Abatements, made, in Collectors' Lists.

Abatements in Downing Varney's list 1861, 43.13.

" S. J. Wentworth's " 1862, 49 43.
" William Rand's " 1863, 562, 35 - 654, 91

Note.—In making abatements in William Rand's list for 1863, there was an abatement made on John Greenfield's estate, state, county town and school tax, amounting to two hundred six dollars and fifty six cents. This amount was assessed on money at interest after the taxes were assessed. The executors of said estate represented to the Selectmen that the above named sum was assessed on notes held by said Greenfield estate as collateral security, of which the board of Selectmen decided that said notes was not in their jurisdiction to tax, which was the reason why said abatement was made.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Report of the Chief Engineer.

To the Board of Selectment of the Town of Rochester ! sol

Gentlemen—The Engineers having attended to the duties assigned them, respectfully submit the following Report:

There are are four Engines belonging to the town, with good and well organized Companies for each Engine.

Cochecho No. 1 and Torrent, No. 2 are located in the Village at the Plains. Tiger No. 3 is located at the Counc. Village, and Torrent No. 4 at East Rochester Village.

The Machines are all in fine condition, and in good working order; and much is due to the Stewards appointed by the several Companies, for the interest and pride they manifest in having their Machines in readiness at all times to do effective service if called upon.

The Fire Department have been called out five times during the year; twice at a fire in the Factories of the Norway Plains Company—at a fire at the Tannery of E. G. & E. Wallace, also in the Tailoring establishment of H. Veschoff, over the store of Burnham & Brown, and at the house of Wentworth Goodwin.

They have also been called out at one false alarm during the year. At all the fires above named, it was clearly demonstrated to all who witnessed the exertions made, and the energy exhibited by our Firemen, that in no place can they boast of having a better or more efficient set of men belonging to such an organization, than we have in this town; and at the several fires they have been called upon to extinguish, by their untiring exertions, much valuable property has been saved—enough to pay for all the appropriations that have been made, or will be made for this Department for many years. Fully appreciating the services rendered at the fire in the Mills of the Norway Plains Company, J. D. STURTEVANT, Esq., Agent, presented to each Company engaged in this work a liberal sum in money as a testimonial and acknowledgment of their valuable services.

We hope the citizens of Rochester will feel that it is for their interest, and a duty, to sustain liberally our Fire Department, who, for a mere pittance, are always ready to protect their property at the first alarm of fire, and who have also appropriated most of the money received of the town for services for the benefit of the Fire Department.

The Cochecho Engine Co. No. 1 are much in need of a Bell for their Engine, and have felt the importance of having one many times when called out at night; as without this necessary appendage to their Machino they find it difficult to call the Company together, or inform them of the location of the Engine; and it is hoped that the town will at once procure one for this Engine.

There has been one fire (only a few days ago) not mentioned in the foregoing Report, where the Firemen were not called upon; the house occupied by Mr. Young, located out of the village, and some distance from any other dwelling, caught fire during his absence, and was almost entirely consumed before it was discovered—in which he lost his Household Furniture, and all he possessed, and we trust the citizens will generously respond to the call that has been made for his relief.

grant to a good rate, by love and of a contended to move with

Total farm receipts for the year ending Mar. 1, 65 $915 46
NorrMr Holmes, the Superintendent on the Farm, estimates that he will have on the first day of April next, the following amount of provisions, over and above the amount when he took charge of the farm on the first of last April:
2 barrels pork, estimated at $80.00
200 bushels potatoes "
2 tons English hay, " 75.00 ; ;
6 bushels white beans, " 18 00
25 bushels corn, 6 56 00 - 379 00
This amount, added with the receipts of the farm, make the receipts and expenditures (1297 77) of the farm for the past year nearly belance. $1,291 46

[In filling the quota of sixty-nine men required from this town under the call of the President of July, 1864, we had a deficiency of two men to complete the quota after the time had expired, which was allowed for filling the same, and the selectmen had two orders from principals which were limited one to two hundred, and the other to two hundred and fifty dollars. The price of substitutes were so high at that time, that they could not be obtained for that sum together with the bounties, and the selectmen took the responsibility to pay the required sum over and above the limits of the order, for the sake of having the quota completed, believing that the town would justify their course in the matter.]

OF THE

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Board of Selectmen of the Town of Rochester:

GENTLEMEN-The Engineers respectfully submit the following Report:

The different Engines are located the same as designated in our report for the year 1863; the Companies are all well organized with the machines in good running order, and always ready to do good service. if they should be called upon to extinguish a fire.

For the past year, the Fire Department has been called out only in two or three instances, and the fires extinguished with but slight damage; and we congratulate the citizens that they have been so fortunate as not to require the services of the

We have put in two new Reservoirs in East Rochester, and one in Rochester village, in accordance with the vote of the town. One more is to be built in the village, and when this is finished it will complete all Reservoirs provided for the town; but we think that one or two additional Reservoirs in the village is called for, for the better protection of property in case of fire.

At their meeting in March last, the town appropriated a sum of money to Torrent Engine Company No. 2, for the purpose of building a new House, but the matter has been delayed on account of the difficulty in procuring a suitable lot on which to place the building; but measures have recently been taken to obtain a proper location, an efficient Committee appointed, and proposals issued for building a house for their Engine.

N. T. KIMBALL, Chief Engineer.

Rochester, March 1, 1865.

REPORT

OF THE

Superintending School Committee

0F

ROCHESTER,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEB. 20, 1865.

In compliance with the requirements of the laws of our State, the Superintending School Committee of Rochester submit the following Report of our Schools:

District No. 1.—Prudential Committee, Amasa Allen. The Summer term of this school was taught by Lucy Roberts, an experienced teacher, and a good school. Instances of tardiness, 2; number not absent one half day, 3.

The Winter Term was commenced by Stephen W. S. Prescott, who taught four days and left for reasons unknown. Jeremiah S. Bean succeeded him, and closed up the term, giving, we think, good satisfaction.

District No. 2,—Prudential Committee, Simon L. Horn.—The Summer term of ten weeks and the Winter term of eleven were taught by Hellen S. Horn, who was attentive to her duties and kept up a good interest in the school. Instances of tardiness, 18; number not absent a half day, 4.

District No. 3. Summer term was taught by Lucy A. McDuffee, an experienced teacher, and who invariably gives good satisfaction. The scholars during this term made a marked success, and good satisfaction was given to the distric

The Winter term was taught by Hosea S. Merrifield, a competent and energetic teacher, one who loves his work and who succeeded in winning the good will of his scholars and inspiring them with a will to learn. This school proved a success both in the Summer and Winter terms.

District No. 4.—The Summer term of this school was taught by Lucie A McDuffee. This is a very small school but some of the scholars are well advanced, as much so in our opinion as any in town. They are to be commended for their good behavior and strict attention to studies. A good proficiency was made during the Summer term.

The Winter term was taught by Mary H. Hayes, whose scholarship compares favorably with other teachers, and who manifested zeal and untiring efforts to promote the progress of the school, and to a good degree succeeded in the effort.

District No. 5.— The Summer term was taught by Mary A. Meserve. The school is very small in number, not enough to inspire either teacher or scholars. The teacher, however, strove to inspire in the minds of her pupils an inclination to learn, and we think to some extent succeeded in the attempt. A fair success attended her efforts.

The Winter term was taught by Media S. Sanborn. A general satisfaction was given to the District, and a fair success was made,—as much perhaps as could be expected in so small a school.

District No. 6. The Summer school was taught by Arabella M. Clark, whose efforts to make the school commendable were successful, and a good proficiency was made by each scholar. We believe good satisfaction was given to the District.

The Winter term was taught by Lucie A. McDuffee. The government was strict yet gentle, and the improvement is highly commendable. Great thoroughness was attained by practice of regular reviews, which is in our opinion very important in all district schools.

District No. 7.—The Summer term of this district (Gonic), was taught by Miss Lauraette Ricker. This was her second summer term in this district. Miss R. possesses a wonderful faculty of winning the good will and affection of her scholars, consequently she has succeeded admirably in impressing good principles upon their young minds, and also of controlling her pupils. She was unable, however, to create all that interest, and maintain that good order which is necessary in order to render the school as profitable as it ought to have been,—owing to the large number that attend the school, which in our opinion is altogether too large for any one female teacher to control.

The Winter term was taught by Henry E. Chamberlain, a competent and faithful teacher, who spared no pains in making the school what it really ought to be. Good order was maintained throughout, and the examination at the close of the term gave evidence of thoroughness, good discipline and progress.

District No. 8.—Rochester Village, under the supervision of a separate committee, by reason of the adoption of the Somersworth act. Their report has been published in the Rochester Courier of March 3.

District No. 9—Prudential committee, Jeremiah Shorey. The Summer term was taught by Mary Whitney. It was a total failure; the teacher apparently lacking energy, and almost if not quite, loathing her business.

The Winter term was taught by Lydia A. Flagg, an experienced teacher, who succeeded in arousing the ambition of her pupils,—gaining their respect and good will, and improved them morally and intellectually.

District No. 10.—Prudential committee, James McDuffee. Both Summer and Winter terms of this school were taught by Marianna Sanborn, one of our best and most experienced teachers, who never fails to interest her scholars, improve their manners and add to their stock of useful knowledge. Instances of tardiness first term, 10; not absent one half day, 8; second term, tardiness, 17; not absent one half day, 2.

District No. 11.—The Summer term was taught by Mary H. Hayes, a faithful and earnest teacher, who was successful in maintaining good discipline, and creating a good interest in her scholars. A good advancement was made by the school, and ageneral satisfaction was given to the district.

The Winter term was taughts by Thomas E. Caverly, a faithful and competent teacher, who succeeded far beyond our expectations. Good order was maintained, and good advancement was made. No teacher probably could have done better. Scholars, parents and the committee were well satisfied.

District No. 12.—Prudential committee, Thomas Evans. The Summer term of this school was taught by M. E. Jenkins, an experienced teacher and well qualified as to education, and, although the scholars made tolerable good improvement, yet the school did not quite meet our expectations, the teacher not appearing so deeply interested in her work as we would gladly have seen her. This is a well advanced and interesting school, and should have greatly interested the teacher. Instances of tardiness, 65; not absent one half day,

Three weeks of the Winter term was taught by Wm. H. Sanborn, who, through want of experience we think, failed to secure order, or the good will of his scholars. The remainder of the term was taught by Wilson K. Lindsey, an experienced and well qualified teacher, with whom the scholars seemed much pleased, and under whose tuition they made very good improvement. Instances of tardiness, 1; not absent one half day, 5.

District No. 13.—Prudential committee, Dudley B. Waldron. The Summer and Winter terms were taught by Mary F. Waldron, a good scholar, and well qualified to teach, and in our opinion, if the scholars failed to learn it was not the fault of the teacher. Instances of tardiness, 8; not absent one half day, 2,

District No. 14.—Prudential committee, Daniel Henderson. The Summer term was taught by Sarah E. Housdon. The Winter term by A. J. Hodgdon, an excellent teacher who gave good satisfaction, and kept a good school. Instances of tardiness, first term, 18: second term, 34; not absent one half day, first term, 2; second term, 10.

District No. 15.--Ptudential committee, John O. Sleeper. The Summer term of this school was taught by Abbie E. Jacobs, who, though young and inexperienced, kept an excellent school. Instances of tardiness, 9; number not absent one half day, 8. The Winter term was taught by Susan Tebbetts, and was a profitable school. Instances of tardiness, 3.

District No. 16.--Prudential committee, Simon Went-worth. This District is united with a district in Milton, and as we were not notified of its commencement or end, we did not visit it and cannot report in relation to it.

District No. 17.---Prudential committee, Seth F. Mc-Duffee. Both the Summer and Winter terms of this school were taught by Susan R. Canney, who kept an excellent school in a very poor school house. Instances of tardiness, 9; not absent one half day, 13.

District No. 18.---P udential committee, James Tebbetts. No Summer term. Winter term taught by Marianna Sanborn, an excellent teacher. A new school house is very much needed in this District.

District No. 19.---Charles F. Parker, Prudential committee. The Summer term was taught by Harriet N. Chamberlain. A large school with a great variety of studies. The teacher did well. Instances of tardiness, 40; not absent one half day, 2.

The Winter term was taught by Jeremiah S. Bean, who did all the District could expect a man to do in so large a school. This school should be graded, and at least one half of the scholars put under a good female teacher in a separate room. Instances of tardiness, 20; not absent one half day, 14.

District No. 20.4-Superintending Committee, George A. Diew. The Summer term taught by Susan Tebbetts was an interesting and good school. Instances of tardiness, 16; not absent one half day, 9.

The Winter term was taught by Lizzie B. Ricker, who was too young and inexperienced,; consequently, although she labered hard and did as well as could be expected of one so young, yet she accomplished but little. Scholars not absent one half day, 4.

In closing our annual Report, we would suggest, that although our public Schools are as good, perhaps, as the average in this State, and as good, we think, as we have reason to expect under our present school laws, yet they are by no means what they should be in order that we realize in full the almost unbounded blessings which the Common School system is calculated to afford. It really appears to us that our common schools are greatly under valued by our people; not designedly, perhaps, but for want of due consideration. May we not therefore profitably dwell for a few moments upon what they have done and are doing for us, in their present very imperfect state, and then assisted by the light of the past, imagine if we can, what they would do for us, if carried to that state of perfection of which they are capable. Perhaps there is no way by which we can, in so few words, so powerfully impress and so clearly and effectually enlighten the public mind upon this subject, concerning which there seems to be so little thought and therefore so much ignorance, as by referring to the present condition and conduct of the people of the northern States, where the whole population enjoy the benefits of the Common School, and contrasting them with the condition and conduct of the people of the southern States, where the Common School is almost unknown, and the common people, for want of education, are degraded to a level with the slaves.

While they of the South through the ignorance of the masses have been, and still are being led astray by a few designing and wicked men, and are struggling to throw off and abandon the best government on earth, and substitute the most degrading despotism, based upon enslaving the laboring classes, we at the North are clinging to that government and pouring out our blood and our treasure like water to sustain and perpetuate it; and although we have suffered much and propose to suffer more if need be, yet we have by no means suffered as they And while for the lack of general intelligence the South has forsaken our excellent form of government, and suffered incalculable evils, the educated North has been enabled to appreciate it, and not only to enjoy its blessings themselves, but to constrain even its direst enemics to submit to its benign influence, and with us to enjoy its numberless blessings. Thus, obeying the sacred injunction, "Bless them that curse you, and do good to them that despitefully use and persecute you," holding them back from self destruction and ruin. And having purified our government, if not from every stain, yet from its foulest, and shown the omnipotence and indestructibility of a republican government, administered by an enlightened people, we hold it up to the admiration and imitation of the good of all lands, and to the terror and dismay of wicked men and tyrants, either in our own or foreign lands. And now having adverted to some of the beneficial results of that general intelligence, the foundation of which is our Common School system, we will endeavor to point out some of its defects, as we think, and suggest some improvements. And first we think the law, making it the duty of the Prudential Committee of each District to select a teacher, altogether wrong, and that one man elected by the people for a term of not less than three years should perform all the duties of our present Superintending School Committee, and in addition thereto the duty of selecting teachers for every district in town, fixing the wages of the teachers, drawing the money for each district from the town treasury and paying them; and thus allowing the same man who has the oversight of the schools, to select their teachers, we should feel, and he would feel also, that if we had poor schools in consequence of having poor teachers, the fault would be wholly his; and a remedy could at once be applied by removing him and putting a better man in his place. now in nine cases out of ten, our Prudential Committee take no interest in the schools, feel that the office is a burden imposed upon them without compensation, never visit the schools. know nothing of the advancement or standing of them, feel no responsibility and care for no accountability, and provided they have no particular friend or relative to gratify, employ the first person who nappens along seeking employment as a teacher, provided be will teach very cheap. Now let the business of our manufactories and stores, our farms and workshops be managed in the same way, and who does not see that it would be ruinous to all business. And who wonders that our schools are comparatively worthless, or that our Superintending School Committee find it impossible to make the schools what they should be, with such a poor selection of teachers, so wretchedly adapted to the places they occupy? We might say much more upon this subject, but we forbear, and commend it to the consideration of our Legislators.

Although there are many other things to which we would gladly refer, such as the miserable condition of several of our school houses, the great injury done our schools by the irregularity of attendance, and the great benefit our schools would derive from frequent visits by the parents; yet the space we propose to occupy in remarks will not allow us to enter minutely into these matters, and moreover they were quite largely discussed in the report of your last year's Committee, and probably have been for several years past; and with a short quotation from one of our most distinguished statesmen, which we think very appropriate as well as very true, we close our remarks. "Never," says he, " was a reformation more imperatively demanded by every interest and every duty, than inour Common Schools | Our Common Schools are as yet only the rudiments of an institution destined to mold anew the character, to create anew the fortunes of the nation. He who measures their influence, starts back in astonishment at the magnitude of the results already realized; and he who considers what their influence ought to be, is no less astonished at the waste of our means and the neglect of our resources. I hesitate not to declare it as my earnest conviction, that throughout New England, we reap not one tenth part of the benefits which our schools are capable of yielding us. I know and I pledge my reputation upon it, that a boy twelve years old, of average capacity can be taught more of useful knowledge, better business habits, and better moral and intellectual habits, in two years, than our children ordinarily acquire between the ages of four and sixteen. What a fearful treasure of talent wasted, of time misspent " Now if these are true statements, and who doubts it ! is it not time we take one step at least, towards reform? With an earnest entreaty to the inhabitants of our several School Districts to "ponder well the paths of their feet" in relation to our Public Schools, we close our Report.

the state of the s	-

March, 1, 1866. We certify that we have carefully examined the foregoing account of the Selectmen with the town of Rochester, for the year ending a t this date, and we have found it thoroughly vouched and correctly cast, and find now due the town from the Selectmen the sum of two thousand two hundred ninety-six dollars and fifty-four cents ($2,296 54.)

JAS. H. EDGERLY, JOSEPH H. WORCESTER, Auditors.

Of the amount now due in George W. Page's list there has been collected by him as shown by his list, the sum of $1,984 79, which has not been paid over to the Selectmen, leaving a balance in his list to collect, of $415 76. Suit has been commenced again at Page and his sureties, and is now pending in Court.

STATEMENT, COLUMN TO THE STATE OF THE STATE

Total amount of outstanding demands against the town to the date of this Report, is seventy-one thousand, eight hundred and eighteen dollars, $71,818 00

There is now due the town in Collectors' Lists for taxes, unpaid, seven thousand four hundred dollars and fifty-five cents, $7,100 55 Money on hand, two thousand two hundred in a 181 ninety-six dollars and fifty-four cents, $2,296,54 Due from the State for State aid, two warms of thousand two hundred minety - five dollars and seven cents. $2,295 07. Due from the United States Government for bounties paid on Soldiers' Assignments in 1863, six thousand four hundred and sixty-two dollars, $6,462 00 . Potal, amount due the town from all sources, including cash on hand, ... $18,454 16 Showing the actual indebtedness of the town to be fifty-three thousand three hundred sixty-four dollars and sixteen cents, In the statement made in the Report last year of the indebtedness of the town, the amount due the town from the State and general Government was accidentally omitted—the amount of which was thirteen thousand two hundred and seventyfive dollars,

Which sum being deducted from the balance of indebtedness as reported last year, would make the indebtedness of the town March 1, 1865, $69,380 04 Balance of indebtedness March, 1, 1866, $53,363 84

Total amount of available means, $5,680 06

Balance of indebtedness,

Of the amount due the town from the United States Government for bounties advanced on soldiers assignments, as reported last year, there has been received three thousand and twenty dollars, ($3,020), leaving a balance still due the town of three thousand four hundred and forty-two dollars ($3,442), which sum is now considered worthless.

It will be seen that the cost of keeping the roads and bridges in repair the past season, has exceeded the amount raised for that object, by the sum of about twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500), which sum has consequently been drawn from the treasury, for which there was no provision made by the town. An assessment of one dollar upon a poll, and property in proportion, for a highway tax, and collected as last year, one half to be expended in summer and the other in winter, if needed, would seem to be the most judicious.

FISCAL YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1867.

The Superintending School Committee in submitting to the town their Annual Report, propose first to offer a few suggestions, which, in our opinion, would greatly tend to promote the interest of our common schools. suggestion is, that in every school district great care should be observed in the choice of a Prudential Committee. should be one deeply interested in the cause of Education, and one who will seek the highest possible good of every scholar. Our second suggestion is, that in securing a teacher, the Prudential Committee should carefully consider the various wants of the district, and choose one who is adapted to meet them. It is a mistake often made, that a cheap teacher will do just as well and give more schooling. Such often prove in the end to be the most expensive. Our third suggestion is, the importance of all the parents in the district being specially interested in the progress of the school. To be thus, they should make it a point to visit it several times each term. The subject demands their interest. Their children need it. Students generally dread a failure before parents and friends more than before any other class of persons; hence, frequent visits from them would tend to stimulate children to greater diligence, as well as to encourage the teacher. Our final suggestion at this time, is with reference to a comfortable place for study. There are several school houses in town which are unfit for that purpose, Much money is expended in them with but little benefit to the children therein that I'm is libred that are long these wrecks, now called school houses, shall be removed, and neat, comfortable school houses fill their places.

We shall now proceed to report the schools by districts, in their regular order.

has taught in this District belote, and has proved herself a thorough and efficient teacher. The school has made very marked progress under her instruction.

In concluding, we would urge upon the teachers and Prudential Committees the necessity of returning to the Superintending Committee the registers of their respective schools. Our report is not so complete as it would otherwise have been, in consequence of their remissness in this respect. The law requires that the registers should be examined by the Superintending Committee before the teachers can receive their pay.

Stale and hackneyed as is the theme of common schools, it is still a matter of the deepest interest to all who have at heart the well-being of the community. They afford the sheet anchor of our liberties. Without the intelligence which they diffuse, our liberty would degenerate into mere license and anarchy. A republican form of government is a mere impossibility, unless intelligence and education are diffused among all classes; and no system can be devised so efficient in promoting this object as our system of common schools. The lover of his race and country can engage in no task which will be more beneficial in its effects, and more surely win for him the lasting gratitude of the world, than that of perfecting our system of common schools. There is too much inclination to under-estimate their value. But though we would not under-value the importance of the higher institutions of learning, it is not too much to say, in view of facts with which we are all acquainted, that our common schools afford a course of instruction and mental descipline which will qualify a man to fill with credit the highest positions in the State.

enter the at animal teams a weather, as if the contraction The necessary expenditures upon bridges the past years has been unusually alarge of Garland's bridge at East 111 Rochester has been substantially rebuilt at a cost, of about fire sixteen hundred and fifty dollars, ($1,650,) one-half, of which was sustaired by the town of Lebanon. Isinglass ? bridge has also been almost wholly rebuilt at an expense of about six hundred and twenty dollars, ($620), About two 1911 hundred dollars ($200) has been expended in replanking Nor-in it way Plains bridge, and about four hundred ($400) in repairing smaller bridges, making upward of two thousand dollars ($2000 expended upon bridges alone, Our high, ways and bridges are now principally in good condition. The total amount of taxes assessed last year for the repairs of highways and bridges, was four thousand one hundred and sixty-seven dollars ($4,167,) which we think has been for the most part judiciously laid out under the direction of the several high-way surveyors. Under the new statutes each poll is now estimated for the purpose of taxation at seventy five cents; consequently an assessment of fifty cents upon a poll, and estates in proportion for the repairs of highways and bridges the present year, will produce a larger tax than seventy-five cents/upon a poll produced last year, which under the present condition of heghways and bridges, may be sufficient.

The fire department, as appears from the Chief Engineer's report, (to which we refer for all matters of pressing importance,) is in good condition. The companies are well filled and a commendable spirit of rivalry prevails.— Fortunately we have had but few occasions for its services during the past year. Seven hundred and thirty-four dollars ($734), have been expended in the purchase of leather hose, which, as will be seen by the Engineer's report, was indispensable to render the department reliable and efficient in ease of fires. There is now no question that if an non pipe should be extended through our principal streets, similar to the one already laid to the square, it would be in the end the cheapest and most efficient means whet I found amount all of suppressing fires, and hence a great blessing to the community. The total cost of pipe when completed, together with the hydrants, would not probably exceed one dollar and twenty-five cents per linear foot, and when once complete would be permanent and durable.

Rochester, March 1, 1868.

The number of paupers now at our Almshouse is only twelve, which are permanent boarders. The whole number admitted to the almshouse during the year including those who remained April 1, 1867 is forty, besides entertainment occasionally to destitute travelles. Some necessary repairs have been made the past year on the old farmhouse, which will answer very well for a numbers of years without much more expense.

It is made the duty of the Chief Engineer by statute to make report annually to the town, of the condition of all the apparatus under his care belonging to the town, and the amount of expenditures for repairs thereon. When the present board of engineers took charge of the machines and apparatus of the fire department, they requested the officers of the several companies to make report to the board of engineers, of the condition of the machines and apparatus, which they did.

In the report of Cochecho Co., No. 1, it is stated; "The leather hose are very old and rotten, and will not resist the pressure of a full company with ordinary force, and have become almost worthless.". In the report of Torrent Co., No. 2, it is stated; "That two hundred feet of leather hose are bad, virtually worthless, and one hundred feet will answer with small pressure."

In the report of Tiger, No. 3, at Gonic, it is stated; "One hundred and fifty feet of leather hose must be repaired before they can be used, and it is very necessary that we have a new hose pipe." In the report of Torrent Co., No. 5, East Rochester, it is stated; That the hose are good for nothing for service, and that two pieces of suction hose are wanted; also three suction hose spanners, and one large wrench."

After considering the reports, and examination of the several macinhes and apparatus, we report to the Selectmen of the town, that such articles should be furnished.

Whole amount of repairs approved for the past year amounts to $65 00

At the last annual meeting, the town appropriated one thousand dollars toward erecting an Engine House at East Rochester, for Torrent Engine Company, No. 5. A good building has been erected, and the members of the engine company at that place have taken their funds and appropriated the same toward the erection of said house, and when the same shall be completed it will be the property of the town, and it is but just that the fown should at the proper time vote such further sum to complete the house and repay what the company has expended out of their funds in the erection of the same, as has heretofore been voted in aid of other companies. A new Engine House is required for Tiger Co., No. 3; at Goine, the present house is insufficient to properly protect the engine and apparatus. The Engine Houses for Cocheche, No. 1, and Torrent, No. 2, in Rochester village are good buildings and in good repair.

The several machines are in good order, the apparatus (other than the hose) are in good order. More leather hose are necessary for the efficient, operation of the machines in case of fires. The purchase of the hose the past year was an absolute necessity, and had not such been furnished, the machines at the large fire at the factory and in the stable near the lower flotel could not have been operated, with any degree of success.

The one thousand dollars raised at the last annual meeting for an iron pipe from the hydrant in the factory yard, to the cistern on Central Square, near the liberty pole, has thus far proved a perfect success. There is a hydrant on the square near the liberty pole, and one in the front yard of the house of Harrison Hale, nearly opposite the store of Messrs Hodgdon & Bickford, on either of which hydrants several hundred feet of hose can be attached, and water thrown on or over any building within that distance—With the force now so liberally furnished to the town by the factory company, these hydrants are more efficient in their locations than a Steam Fire Engine. There are about six hundred feet of four inch iron pipe, which cost (all haid, including hydrants,) about $1.47 per foot.

The first quality of two-inch leather hose including a couplings, cost $1 80 per foot, demonstrating the fact that water can be supplied in the several parts of the village at less expense in four-inch iron pipe, than in two-inch leather lose.

At the less viewed societies, the love appropriated ere

It must be apparent to every tax payer in this town, that the protection of the property in the three villages in town is of great interest to all; many laborers are employed therein; a good market is opened, and a large amount of taxes are paid. And it is but just to say that for ten years last past, the town has promptly granted liberal aid to its fire department, and had not such aid been granted, on several occasions our villages must have been laid in ashes, and the town seeing the good results of such appropriations it is hoped that they will as heretofore, grant such aid as shall make the Fire Department an efficient organization in time of need.

All of which is respectfully submitted, CYRUS K, SANBORN, Chief Engineer,

1 - 11, 11 (11) (11) (11)

Both Summer and Winter Terms, amounting to 16 weeks, were kept by Miss C. N. Nute. The school in this District is very small and backward, but they have made very decided advancement during this term. Number of scholars, 10.

We have noticed as one of the most serious obstacles in the improvement of our schools, a great disposition among District Committees to employ cheap teachers. The wages of teachers have felt the universal appreciation of prices which has been taking place for the last five or six years.

A gay feel be a withing the entropy of the liberaries year or r in their emilies. A too school was seen amely profited This is submitted to as inevitable in almost all other cases where the relation of hirer and hired exists. A farmer has no hesitation in hiring a man whom he knows to be capable and trusty and master of his business, and paying him two dollars a day, even though he could obtain the services of an inferior and inexperienced workman for half that Barsum, and knows that it is much more profitable 'to' employ the man at two dollars. But when this same farmer occupies the situation of Prudential Committee the slipewdness and good judgment which marked his choice of a laborer to till his field seems suddenly to desert him in this new position, and because he can hire a person for ten or fifteen dollars a Winter less, he flatters himself that he has , and made a great bargain gathough the steacher employed may and be sentirely unsuitable to mould; youthful character. : His attainments may be so small that it is only by the exercise of great advoitness that he prevents his poverty in this respect becoming apparent to his pupils. And as for interest in his vocation he openly proclaims that it is in all its respects utterly hateful to him. Until Prudential Committees come to recognize that there are different degrees of merit among teachers, and that it is the poorest kind of economy . to employ teachers whose only merit perhaps is that they can be hired for five or ten dollars less per month, than another of well established reputation, the grade of our schools will always be low. There are backward schools in this town that will always be backward so long, as this unwise niggardliness is practised. Respectfully submitted. esting to nothing . A. J. H. Interest due on notes about Total amount of notes and interest,	$\frac{2,41975}{$62,26745}$

You will see by the Report of last year, made by the Selectmen, ending March 1st, 1868, that there was one thousand dollars ($1000) due as interest on outstanding notes. But we find by carefully easting the interest due up to that time, that there was due as interest three thousand nine hundred twenty-eight dollars and sixty-three cents ($3928 63), making a debt upon the tax-payers of sixty-four thousand seven hundred and thirty dollars and twenty-two cents ($64,730 22), instead of sixty-one thousand eight hundred five dollars and fifty-nine cents, ($61,-805 59) as reported last year.

To the Selectmen of the Town of Rochester.

Gentlemen: In compliance with the statute, I herewith respectfully present to you my annual report of the condition of the Fire Department for the year ending February 24, 1872—comprising the number of men in the several companies, and the apparatus, Reservoirs and Hydrants, with the losses by fire, amount of repairs, together with other items of interest to the

The condition of the Department, I am proud to say, is improving. Much has been done the past year and much more is necessary to be done the coming year, to make it sufficiently efficient to meet the pressing wants of the increasing community, the erection of buildings and the increase of merchandise, particularly in the three villages.

There are four Hand Engines, one Hook and Ladder

Carriage, and one Hose Company, viz:

Cochecho Engine No. 1, Torrent Engine No. 2, Tiger Engine No. 3, Torrent Engine, No. 5, Rochester Village. · Gonic East Rochester " Resolute Hook & Ladder, No. 1, Rochester "Pioneer Hose Company, No. 1, "Cochecho No. 1 Eugine is in perfect order, having been recently repaired and painted.

Torrent No. 2 Engine wants little repairs. Tiger No. 3 Engine is an old machine, having been in use nearly forty years; not sufficient for the wants of the present demands. A new or better Engine is , necessary for Gonic Village.

Torrent No. 5 is in good order.

Resolute Hook & Ladder No. 1 is new and in perfect

Pioneer Hose Co. No. 1. There is no hose carriage for this Company, I Hose and other apparatus have been purchased, and men appointed to manage the hose and hydrants in time of tire.

Towers with cisterns under them should be completed in Engine houses Nos. 2, 3 & 5, for the cleaning and drying the hose. It will be a matter of economy to the town to have such completed.

There are 24 Reservoirs, 18 of which are located in Rochester Village, 3 in Gonie and 3 in East Rochester, none of which contain but a very limited amount of water; any one of which can be pumped dry in half an hour by either of the Engines.

There are pressing wants for larger and better filled reservoir. They should be constructed tight, and large, and kept full of water. Some should be constructed camediately in locations where most needed.

There are two good and efficient Hydrants in Rochester Village, the water and power for which are supplied by the liberality of the Norway Plains Company.

Five hundred feet of three inch hase have been purchased the past year, for the Hydrants, and it is believed that with said hose and the two Engines in Rochester Village two streams of water cui be thrown upon any building within cloven handred fiel from either hydrant, protecting every business place in Rochester village, including all the doppts and freight houses except the factory of Mey is. F. G. & E. Wallace, and the store of C. W. Brown.

I also recommend the pare use of more these for the several engines the coming years. The several engine houses are in good order with, this exception, of this towers and cistaria and extrem, a herein before stated.

A new floor of Lybbon carriers, frilly hidder and apparatus has been purchased, accelling to previous vote of the town, which are in particle of other. Allow carriage is absolutely necessary on which to early the hydrant hore. I also recounted the purchase of such a carriager with the contraction of the

It is important that a house should be built immediately in which to keep the Hook & Ladder carriage and Hose carriage. A One house can be so arranged as to accommodate both. I recommend that the town take action thereon at the coming annual meeting.

The large and rapid increase of buildings and merchandise, and the prospect of a much larger increase in Rochester, East Rochester and Gonic villages, I feel it my duty and am warranted in reporting to you that there is an urgent necessity for the purchase of a Steam Fire Engine, to protect the taxable property in buildings and merchandise from fire.

The alarming extent of fires in Rochester village the past year cannot fail to convince every one of such necessity. It is mest sincerely hoped that every taxpayer will give the subject that, consideration its importance requires.

By the kindness of Supt. Turner, of the Portland and Rochester R. R. the Hook & Ladder Carriage was transported by said Railroad from Portland to Rochester, free of charge.

In conclusion, I desire to express my thanks to the gentlemen who have been associated with me upon the Board of Engineers, for their co-operation and support at all times; and to the officers and members of the several companies of the department, whose promptness and perseverance meets not only the approval of the Board of Engineers, but of all persons who witness their unceasing efforts on All occasions.

REPORT OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Of the Town or Rochester, submitted to the town, March 12th, 1872; which was accepted and ordered to be printed.

In compliance with the requirements of law, the Superintending School Committee submit the following report of the condition and success of the public schools, together with the statistics required to be collected and reported to the town at its annual meeting.

DISTRICT No. 1.—Prud. Com., SAN'L N. WINGATE.
The summer term of 12 weeks was taught by Francette M. Swasey. The winter term of 14 weeks by T. H. Stacy, who labored diligently and was successful in his efforts for the school.

DISTRICT No. 3 .- Prud. Com., John S. Hall.

The summer term of 12 weeks was taught by Clara F. Hayes, with good success. The winter term of 16 weeks by Mary P. Waldron, a teacher of some experience, but there was wanting that energy and zeal in the teacher, and also that co-operation in the parents and scholars of the district so necessary for the success of the school.

No. of scholars, 31 22 Av. attendance, 24

DISTRICT No. 1 .- Prud. Com., CHARLES CLARK.

The summer term of 8 weeks was taught by Victoria A. Jenness. The winter term of 12 weeks by James M. Hayes, a good teacher; and this district with a good school-house well cared for, have had one of the best small schools in town.

No. of scholars. 5 15 Av. attendance, 4 13

DISTRICT No. 5.—Prud. Com., John E. F. Watson.
The summer term of 9 weeks was taught by Ella C.
Bickford. The winter term of 15 weeks by Annie M.
Seavey! Both schools were good as could be expected with so small a number of scholars, and a bouse entirely unfit for school purposes. We would suggest that there be a change in this district, either by dividing it and annexing one part to No. 4, or that the whole be annexed to district No. 6.

No. of scholars, 9 13 Av. attendance, 6 11

DISTRICT No. 6—Prud. Com., WILLIAM FLAGE.

The summer term of 8 weeks was taught by M. Josephine Hum. The winter term of 9 1-2 weeks by Charles H. Foss; two good and successful teachers.

No. of scholars, 23 Av. attendance, 21 DISTRICT No. 7.—Prud. Com., Sewell J. Cilley.

The summer term of 12 weeks, the fall term of 10 weeks, and the winter term of 12 weeks, were taught by Amanda S. Ham, assisted by M. Josephine Ham, both experienced and successful teachers, and the schools were all that could be expected from so large a mixed school as this, with the limited accommodal tions furnished by the district. We recommend and hope the district will make suitable provision for a grading of their school.

In reviewing the general condition of our Schools, we are satisfied there is a gradual improvement; still we find confronting us many of the objections that have existed in former years, and many obstacles that are very necessary to be overcome before we can hope to have the full benefits so desirable from these institutions. We wish it were possible for us to suggest something that might induce our citizens generally to manifest a deeper interest in the welfare of all our public schools.

Order, that first law of heaven, is still too much wanting to have them what they should be.

Our citizens will see by examining this Report, that the average attendance in our schools has not been as good as last year, but the unusual prevalence of epidemics among children accounts for this apparent neglect, to a great extent.

We also desire to call the particular attention of parents, masters and guardians of children, to the recent enactments of law compelling children to attend school, copies of which we have had printed and posted, and so far as possible have kept posted at every school-house in the town during the last six months, and ask the co-operation of every person to aid the Superintending Committee in carrying the same into effect.

In this connection we would ask the serious consideration of our citizens to the provisions of the laws of the State recently enacted, enabling towns to abolish the School Districts therein, and forming but one district in the town, to be placed under a Board of Education consisting of not less than three persons, who shall have and exercise all the powers and duties of Superintending and Prudential Committees.

In case the town should not think it advisable to adopt the law making the whole town one district, your Committee would invite special attention to the recommendations in their Report of last year, in regard to the necessity of better or new school-houses in some districts, and the consolidation of some other districts, so that the number be less, and consequently longer schools and more scholars in what are now very small districts and telecals.

We have been notified by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, (J. W. Simonds) that a Teachers' Institute will be holden at Rochester for Strafford County, commencing April 15, 1872, and continue through the week; and we would earnestly request all Teachers to avail themselves of the advantages which we believe the Institute affords. And we hope all our citizens will show that they have an interest in educational matters, by giving their personal attendance, so far as they possibly may.

Herewith is presented a tabular statement of the several School Districts and Schools, together with such other matters of interest relating to our Schools as we hope may be useful.

All of which is respectfully submitted, by

D. J. PARSONS, Superint'g School C. S. WHITEHOUSE, Committee.

SCHOOL COMMITTEES REPORT.

well-distributed of the state of

To the Citizens of Rochester:

The Superintending School Committee submit their annual report for the year ending March, 1874.

The schools throughout the town have enjoyed well nigh universal prosperity and success, with scarcely a ripple of insubordination to mar the general peace and harmony.

For the most part, teachers of character, culture, ability and aptness have been placed over the schools, and marked and decisive progress has resulted. Their influence has tended to develope the moral as well as the intellectual character of their pupils.

Too great care cannot be exercised by Prudential Committees, in the selection of teachers. Let the moral and intellectual training of the youth be intrusted only to persons of culture and character; to those who have a heart in their work and realize the responsibility resting upon them; those who are not satisfied with present attainments and content to plod along the old time ruts; but who, on the other hand, are constantly perusing educational works, and ever on the alert to learn new and better methods of school management and instruction; those who, with Galileo, have discovered that "the world moves," and are bound to keep pace with that movement.

All bias and favor should be laid aside, and a careful discrimination used, and those only employed whom nature and culture have adapted to this honorable and responsible calling. When such are secured, and they are laboring arduously for the mental and moral improvement of the youth, let them receive the earnest and cordial co-operation of all citizens, and let it not be said, "theirs is a thankless task."

Irregularity of attendance—from truancy and other causes—is an evil severely felt, especially in our village schools. It tends to demoralize a school, to break up and multiply classes, and to cause a general spirit of indifference. It effectually prevents all thoroughness on the part of those addicted to it, and renders their schooling well nigh worthless, and the part of the schooling well nigh worthless.

We are glad to report that at East Rochester and the Gonic, during the last term, a marked improvement has been effected; owing, no doubt to the efficiency of the teachers. Parents and guardians should do all in their power to correct this bane of our school system. They should heartily co-operate with the teachers—exert a positive influence in this direction at home; also, if possible, frequently visit the school-room, and in a direct and social manner manifest their interest to remedy this evil as well as to promote, the efficiency of the school; for it is a general rule that the interest and approval, or lack, of interest, and disapproval of the parents will produce a corresponding effect on the children.

One of the many advantages, to be derived from a thorough system of grading, is its tendency to prevent the evil of inconstancy of attendance. The desire of the scholar to maintain his standing and avoid the mortification of an assignment to a lower class and less honorable position in the school, forms a strong incentive, urging him to punctuality no, less than diligence and thoroughness.

The Committee believe a high school accessible alike to all the pupils in town, upon the attainment of proper qualifications, is much needed. Aside from the direct benefits to the school itself, a new motive to exertion would be presented to the scholars of the lower grades of schools, and their ambition quickened by the desire to attain to such qualifications as would enable them to enter the high school. Teachers of the lower grades would also be prompted to be more systematic and exhaustive in their instruction.

The economy of educating our children at home, and the fact that their morals can be more carefully looked to than when at distant schools, should be mentioned in favor of such a school.

No new school-houses have been erected during the year, and little has been done for the improvement of old ones. The school-house, however, in district No. 14 has been quite thoroughly repaired within and without; and its appearance, convenience and comfort much increased.

The house in district No. 9 is entirely unfit for use; and we are pleased to learn that steps are being taken to replace it with a new one.

A word in relation to the school-room in district No. 7. Seventy or more scholars of all grades of advancement, from the alphabet to the higher English studies are all gathered into one room. No, one teacher can successfully manage them under such circumstances; and the conveniences for an assistant are poor indeed.

In a republican form of government, the people will be represented by their kind. The stream cannot rise higher than the fountain. If ignorance prevails, its attendants—vice and depravity—will find their way into the counsels of the nation and endanger our free institutions. As, then, we value these, let a liberal and cheerful support be given to our common schools.

Furthermore, it is acknowledged that in the direct ratio that popular knowledge increases, virtue, competence and happiness prevails; and as it decreases, poverty, vice and crime abound. If this be so, conomy demands that our schools be carefully cherished and fostered, for it is allowed to be more expensive to punish the crimes of the people than to educate them.

Herewith is presented tabular statements pertaining to the several schools and school districts.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR DISTRICT No. 8

Present their annual report of the condition and success of the Schools therein, for the year ending March, 1874.

At the last annual meeting of the district, the committee were instructed to thoroughly grade all its schools. They have tried to fulfill those instructions faithfully. Every school has been as thoroughly graded as could be done in one year. But though not yet perfect as the committee desire and hope to see them in the future, fruit enough has been reaped already, to convince all concerned, that it has wrought a great and desirable reform.

The teaching has become systematic, and the instructions exhaustive; and thus each grade lays a tirm foundation for the next. Nothing is done superficially, but every step in advance is thoroughly mastered. Consequently the scholar, thoroughly conversant with all he has gone over, makes more easy and rapid progress in the future.

The evils of truiney and irregularity of attendance, have been much abated. Scholars soon learn that such system and regulations demand constant attendance, if they would keep pace with their classes and avoid the humility of being assigned to one of lower grade. Class feeling and sympathy become very strong also, and have a decided tendency to correct the evils of an irregular attendance. The examination of these schools at the close of the year, demonstrate the utility of a graded system.

Thoroughness, and complete mastery of studies pursued by the several classes, was nearly universal. Teachers and scholars alike seemed prepared to give a commendable account of their year's work. A general enthusiasm pervades all departments of the schools, extending to parents and citizens, who came to the examinations in unusual numbers, reaching in the aggregate, one hundred and thirty. This success is due largely to the zeal, and fidelity of our teachers. district has been blessed with a corps of teachers, that for nobility of character, culture, ability and aptness to teach, are seldom equaled. They have ever been watchful to acquire fresh knowledge in the methods of instruction and management of schools, and used it wisely to benefit them. They have been thoroughly alive to the importance of their work, and have keen sense of their responsibility.

Nor would we withhold from the Pridential Committee that meed of commendation justly due his carnest efforts, in securing so able and efficient a corps of instrictors. He has ever given his cordial co-operation and done what lay in his power to advance the interests of our schools.

The Superintendent of a neighboring city says, that "more room is a sure sign of present and increasing prosperity," If so, we are blessed with a large measure of success; for we are sadly in need of a new school-house. Already we have one more school than rooms; and very soon shall have two or three, unless the district conjecto our rescue, and provide better and ampler school accommodations. The want of such has already retarded the progress of the schools?

The school-house on Wakefield street is not fitted to the present wants. It is badly out of repair, cold and unhealthy. The room used for the Grammar school is entirely inadequate to its wants, and illy suited to any grade of scholars. The seats occupy so much of the room as to leave little space for class exercises. The extent of blackboard is small and insufficient, with no chance for enlargement. And this, for a class of pu pils who, more than any other, needs ample blackboard accommodations. In short, the house is entirely unfit for the purposes of education.

The same is true of the house on Elm street. It is unhealthy in location, being beside a marshy bog, from " which the stench arising in summer, from decayed and imal and vegetable matter, is very offensive, and must be exceedingly deleterious to the health of the pupils. Its internal appearance is also very uninviting. The committee are of opinion that this house, and that on Wakefield street should give place, at the earliest possible moment, to a better and larger school building, well and pleasantly located. The rooms should be large, convenient, well lighted and ventilated, inclosing capacious and attractive grounds. There is an educating and moral power, for good or evil, in the character of the buildings and their surroundings. Fine buildings, pleasant school rooms, neatly arranged and properly furnished, and comfortable, facilitate education, aid instruction and discipline, allure the pupils to habits of order and neatness, appeal to, and develope in them a sense of fitness and beauty, refine their feelings and help to restrain from moral debasement.

Our Primary schools are susceptible of much improvement. The old way of requiring small children to sit all day, with little to occupy the attention of their restive natures, is passing away, and a more humane system is being adopted. Educators are understanding better the child's nature, and that its mind must be actively employed, or it becomes restless, weary and noisy, and the school-room, and all about it, obnoxious. The healthy child is inquisitive, active and imitative. If activity, and a desire to do or learn "some new thing," is essential to its health and hap piness, this propensity should be gratified in schools. Its nature should be consulted, and the various school exercises adapted to its physical, intellectual and moral growth. The little scholar in the alphabet should have slate and pencil, as well as his primer; and when he begins to learn to read, should also be taught to draw letters and words; and if he should have the genius to draw the picture of a man, horse, tree, or house, it is hoped his efforts will not be rewarded with the "oil of birch." Teachers should strive to interest, and give profitable direction to those active minds, rather than perniciously restrain them. How many, when called to the stern duties of life, have wished that their imitative faculties had been cultivated, in youth, to the extent of being able to draw readily and correctly the plan of a house, to sketch a leaf, a plant or landscape? An obstacle to this needed reform is, that few of the seats in our Primary schools, are furnished with desks on which children may rest their slates. A little outlay would remedy this; and we feel sure the district would reap results amply repaying them for the small expense required. We rejoice in the belief, that the citizens who have shown so lively an interest in our schools, and during the year have given their cordial approval of the efforts made for their advancement, are willing to do cheerfully what is necessary to promote the usefulness and prosperity of them in the future.

Tabular statements of the conditions of the schools are herewith submitted.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Citizens of Rochester: Manual of

The Superintending School Committee submit their annual report for the year ending March, 1875.

The success of our schools this year, we think, compare favorably with that of former years.

Many of the teachers have possessed the requisite qualifications for success, and their schools have exhibited marked progress in mental, and also moral culture; while some, we fear, have lacked the proper endowments for successful teachers, and their schools have suffered to some extent in consequence.

Prudential Committees, in the selection of teachers to take charge of the intellectual and moral training of the youth, are called to the discharge of very responsible duties. Persons possessing the needful qualifications for teachers—the proper literary attainments, patience, firmness, discretion, energy and aptness to teach—are rare indeed; and much care and precaution should be exercised in their selection, to the end that the services of only the best may be secured, though additional expense may be incurred and the terms be shorter; for a short good school is always preferable to a poor one, however long the terms. We would also urge upon their attention the importance of securing teachers early in the year; before other localities have culled out the best; and, if possible, before the friends and relatives of incompetent teachers have time to importune them.

Thoroughness is all essential to every good school. The aim should be not so much to get through a book as to master it,—every lesson and topic—completely. Scholars thus reap the full benefits of whatever useful information the books contain, and also find their minds disciplined, strengthened and invigorated thereby, and better prepared to master more advanced and difficult studies. Indeed, thoroughness will be found to facilitate rapid advancement, and to enable scholars to obtain a good education at less cost of time even, than a superficial one.

One obstacle, and by no means the least, to this needed reform, is inconstancy of attendance. It effectually prevents all thoroughness on the part of the delinquents, and, by discouraging, destroys all interest in their studies. This evil, however, does not end here. If the schools be well classified, it extends to all those in the same class, and retards likewise the punctual—causing the innocent as well as the erring to suffer.

Another hindrance to thoroughness, especially in mathematics, is the lack of sufficient space of black-board. When sufficiently extensive and properly used, the board enables teachers to detect superficiality and to correct the habit, aids the pupils to rapidity and ease in writing, gives confidence and cultivates the power to readily communicate their ideas. It should be sufficiently extensive in every school-room to allow all the members of the largest classes to work on it at the same time. And yet not one in the town, unless it be the High School room, has such a supply; and not more than three or four have more than enough to accommodate two scholars at once, though we have many neat and otherwise convenient school houses. The fact that this convenience can be secured at trifling expense, makes its want the more to be regretted. It is hoped that in building or repairing school-rooms hereafter, care will be given to this matter. Let there be a walk entirely around the room between the seats and the walls—in rear as well as at the sides—and have all the walls in the room above the ceiling as high as scholars can conveniently reach, done off in hard finish and painted for blackboard purposes. The additional expense at such times would hardly be noticeable.

Mind with well and were It is believed that much time is nearly wasted by delving in Greenleaf's National Arithmetic, to the detriment of other useful studies: that the mind could be better disciplined and more profitable information acquired by pursuing some of the sciences, now neglected to give place for this unnecessary text-book, which is always superficially taught and its principles illy understood, by reason of its abstruseness. The Common School Arithmetic contains quite enough for the actual requirements of life, and is as much of Arithmetic as is to be found in the best graded schools in the country. Its greater simplicity causes it to be more thoroughly taught and better understood than the National. It is to be regretted that the latter book ever found a place in our common schools; and its early banishment therefrom we are convinced would be beneficial.

A High School, accessible to all scholars of the town, upon the attainment of certain qualifications, is much to be desired. For such a school the statutes make provision, and it would in no wise interfere with the present district system. In the lower grades it would be an incentive to scholars, and the qualifications prescribed for entering it would serve to compel due attention to be given to all the elementary studies alike. While scholars in easy circumstances could by means of it more economically acquire an education at home than abroad, it would also enable many a poor, but earnest student to obtain an education, who would otherwise be deprived of it.

Little has been expended upon school-houses the past year. No new ones have been built. The house in district No. 10 has been repaired at an expense of about $75, and now presents quite a neat and tidy appearance within and without. It is to be regretted, however, that it was not provided with good blackboard facilities.

Lastly, parents and citizens should make more frequent visits to the school-room. They would thus encourage and stimulate both scholars and teachers. In districts where this custom prevails; are invariably to be found our best schools.

Herewith are submitted tabular statistics of the several schools.

The Superintending School Committee for District No. 8, present the following report of the general condition and success of the schools under their supervision for the year ending March, 1875.

Your Committee are happy to report that there has been throughout the year a highly gratifying degree of prosperity and success in the various schools in this District.

During the first term of the year, one or two of the Primary schools were much interrupted by measles. The school on Elm-st was nearly broken up in consequence of this disease, nearly one half the pupils being affected by it, and also the teacher, who was unable to return to her position the following term. With a change of teacher, and another epidemic, the progress of the second term was also much retarded. The winter term, however, proved a more successful one, and showed a marked improvement in every respect over the preceding ones. Through the fidelity and zeal of the new teacher, much of the lost ground was recovered, and at the close of the term it compared favorably with the other primaries.

During the winter term, the Main-st Primary was invaded by whooping cough, and for a time its numbers were somewhat depleted. These epidemics, together with the extreme soverity of the weather, should be taken into consideration, in judging of the average attendance of the little folks.

In the last annual report, reference was made to the beneficial results already achieved by the recent gradation of our schools. It was stated in substance, that although much had been accomplished, still the work was not finished.

The thorough classification of schools, of course, requires time as well as faithful, persistent effort.— It could not be expected that classes could at once be brought to the rank of those in towns where the system has been established for years. The first year or two would necessarily be preparatory. That there has been decided progress in this direction. during the past year, we think is clearly apparent to all who have watched the schools. The closing examinations evinced that the work assigned for the year, had been more thoroughly performed than in the previous year, and that pupils of every grade were much better prepared for advancement. The same teachers, with two exceptions, have been employed during the year as in the preceding; and the Committee feel that a large measure of praise is justly due them for the unremitting zeal and fidelity with which they have performed their duties. Parents, too, have lent much encouragement to the cause, by visiting schools and attending examinations. One of the most effective means of stimulating pupils, is an interest or the part of parents. It is also a great incentive to the teachers. I thin white out is a marrison of the troppe

A most important requisite to the success of a system in our schools, is regularity of attendance. It is no less important to the pupil. Irregularity not only breaks up the uniformity of the class, but effectually hinders all the advancement in the pupil. A scholar who is absent now and then a day, or the most of a week, or having been an entire term, stays out the next, "cannot keep up with the class," neither can he acquire accurate and practical knowledge. If dropped back to the next class, much of the time must be spent in going over the same old ground, until it becomes wearisome and he loses all interest. If the attempt is made to go forward, he finds himself overtaxed by the effort of making up lost lessons and often gets discouraged. Did parents more fully realize this evil, we are sure they would do much to lesson it.

The great and pressing need of our schools at this time, is that of more and better accommodations. The lack of suitable room is perhaps the most serious difficulty with which we have to contend. The building on Wakefield-st. is cramped, dirty and dilapidated in fact, a disgrace—as those who attended the recent examinations need not be told. Its size is entirely inadequate to the number of scholars, and we hope it may at an early day give place to a larger and more convenient house. The Hall school suffers much from the unfitness of the room. The Grammar school, too, perhaps the most important of all, from the fact that a large proportion of our scholars graduate here, needs more room and blackboard space. Our Primary schools, too, are to a great extent destitute of desks—a most important convenience for the little child.

Your Committee feel that they cannot too urgently commend this subject to the attention of the district.

Herewith are submitted tabular and other statistics, together with the course of study for the High School.

The question, no doubt, will arise, why so large a balance was held in the treasury? And in reply, allow us to say, that it was to help reduce our rate of interest for the coming year, by the same method that has been pursued through the last year. At the beginning of the fiscal year about half of our outstanding notes were at a rate of 7 and 73-10 interest. Not one of them, to our knowledge, is above 6 per cent. to day, and we supposed that as a matter of course the town would vote to hire money at a rate of interest not exceeding 5 per cent., and exempt the same from taxation, as provided by law. If this is done, it will be necessary to have a few thousand to begin with, as not all will decide to allow their notes to remain. Yet no investment can be safer than a town note at 5 per cent. interest, exempt from taxes.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

FOR THE TOWN,

AND FOR

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 8,

IN THE

TOWN OF ROCHESTER,

TOR THE

Year Ending March, 1876.

Town of Rochester, March 15, 1876.

At the Annual Town Meeting, on presentation of the Report of the School Committee, the following vote was passed:

Voted, that the Report of the Superintending School Committee be printed with the Town Reports.

Attest,

Albert T. Cotton, Town Clerk.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Citizens of Rochester:

The schools, as a whole, have been quite as successful as in former years; and as efficient, perhaps, as could reasonably be expected under our present system of school management. True, many have failed to reach that degree of proficiency to which we wish all might attain; others, however, more fortunate in teachers and other circumstances, have been model schools.

The aids to good schools are very numerous; some of which we will notice.

A neat, pleasant and well arranged school room is a material aid. It shows that the citizens themselves have a lively interest in the schools; pupils, and also teachers, eatch the same spirit, and the cause of popular education seems vested with new importance.—Scholars become more studious, and teachers more zealous and enthusiastic. In fact, give a school a new house, and with it you give a new impetus to the school. On the other hand, let scholars who are accustomed to neat, comfortable homes, be assigned to school-rooms not better than many a stable in town, and possessing none of the conveniences requisite to a school-room, and what importance can they be expected to attach to the acquisition of an education? And how can they be expected to be zealous for study, or the teacher enthusiastic in his work, when citizens treat the cause so shabbily? If a poor school is to be found, as a rule, it will be in the old black, dilapidated and inconvenient school-house. We are happy to state that we have but few such in town, but it is high time those few gave place to better structures.

Ample space of black-board is a very important aid. It should be sufficiently extensive to allow whole classes in mathematics to work on it at the same time. Teachers are thus, with little loss of time, enabled to discover the superficial scholars, and to correct the habit. It is also very useful to classes in geography, grammar and spelling. A convenience so necessary, and obtainable at trifling expense, has been strangely overlooked in many otherwise neat and well arranged school-rooms throughout the town.

Thorough, systematic supervision is an indispensable aid to efficient schools. Few have any adequate idea of the amount of time wasted for want of it. Scholars are eager to make rapid advancement in their studies. often to the sacrifice of thoroughness; parents frequently importune teachers to the same end; and the great mass of teachers, thus induced, or through their own indiscretion, permit their pupils, by a system of cramming, to pass hurriedly over fundamental principles, and often through all the elementary studies with little or no understanding of principles, and often so superficially as to acquire very little knowledge which can be of any profit to them in the active duties of life, or which they can even retain in memory to the end of the term. School privileges thus improved are of little consequence. Pupils are thus disqualified to make progress in more advanced rules and studies for want of a proper knowledge of first principles. These they must turn back to and go over again. And this process is oft times repeated in the same superficial manner as at first. Such scholars constantly find themselves beyond their depth, and know not how to extricate themselves. They have no proper habits of study, and no true conception of the modes to be pursued to acquire knowledge. And yet, this is just the condition of a majority of the scholars in a majority of the schools in this and other towns.

A faithful, competent supervisor, by devoting all his time to the interests of the schools, would be able to learn the qualifications of all the scholars in town, and to give directions to teachers when to keep them upon first principles and when to advance them. Under such supervision scholars scarcely able to read intelligently in the Fourth Reader would not be found in the Sixth, nor stumbling through Miscellaneous Examples at the end of Greenleaf's National Arithmetic without a proper knowledge of Vulgar Fractions; nor would they be allowed to attend our district schools from the fourth to the twenty-first year of their age with only one-half the studies they are capable of pursuing, and to waste one half their time in annoying teachers and disturbing the schools. System would be instituted where there is no system. All the best schools in the state are thus supervised.

Efficient teachers are always indispensable aids to good schools. Persons having the qualities requisite for good teachers are rare indeed. Not that the mass of our teachers lack literary attainments so much as enthusiasm, discretion and tact in management of schools. Persons quite deficient in literary qualifications often succeed well in the school-room, but persons lacking the other qualifications, never.

And yet Prudential and Superintending committees have but little means of knowing whether or not teachers have these qualifications. The former are generally ignorant upon this point, and know not how important it is that their teachers possess these qualifications to insure good schools; while the latter, though recognizing their importance, have usually no means of ascertaining other than the literary qualifications of the candidates presenting themselves for examination, and for the most part are as much in the dark in reference to their other qualifications as are the Prudential committee. These can only be learned by personal observation of their school room manage. ment, or from the like observations of other competent school judges. But in a majority of cases the committee have no opportunity for such personal observation, the candidates often being entire strangers to them, and seldom have any chance to learn of others.

We think their should be a remedy for this. In many of the states applicants, at the outset, have to present, to those empowered to engage teachers, certificates from State or County Supervisors. Upon these certificates is indicated the possessor's ability for school management, provided they have ever taught in the State.

The law provides that any school district may raise money for school purposes in addition to that required to be raised by law. Some of the large districts would do well to avail themselves of this provision: for instance, that at East Rachester where the amount of school money expended for each scholar is less than in any other district in town. The like recommendation might doubtless be made to the Gonic and other school districts.

Lastly, might not some of our small school districts be united, to their mutual advantage, thereby securing longer schools and more money with which to obtain abler teachers? Very small schools are usually devoid of the interest manifested in those of medium size.

REPORT

OF THE

Superintending School Committee,

FOR DISTRICT No. 8.

The schools for the year have been successful, and as great a degree of progress made, it is believed, as in any former year; nor has this progress been had at the sacrifice of thoroughness.

The course of study introduced two years ago has materially enhanced even the progress of the pupils in their studies, but its especial aim was to secure thoroughness; and in this respect, even now, it has been eminently successful. The readiness and thoroughness of the pupils at the last examination was very marked, especially in the lower grades, where the course has become more completely established, and its fruits more observable. In fact, the pupils of the Grammar School, now as a whole, can successfully compete in scholarship with the average scholar in the High School three years ago. If not interfered with the good effects of the course, we feel sure, will ere long extend to, and be equally as beneficial to the higher grades. Then we trust the High School will rise to a level with other similar schools in the State. The great hinderance to good schools in this district has been the want of suitable school room accommodations. This want, however, has been in part supplied by the erection of a neat and substantial school building on Maple street, with two spacious and convenient school rooms. The parents, and especially the scholars, ought to rejoice in its completion; and they may be sure the teachers and committee will join in the common joy.

But the old uninviting house on Wakefield street, with its two rooms crowded so full of seats as to leave little other space, devoid of the conveniences of the country school-rooms of to-day, is still entailed upon us, but we hope and trust for no great length of time. Scholars in rooms of the character of these, with everything about them uninviting, never take the interest or make so rapid advancement in their studies as those in suitable school rooms with attractive surroundings. The interests of education, the health of the scholars and the honor of the place all require a better school building there.

The efficiency of our teachers, and schools likewise, we think are underestimated by the citizens, and especially by those who never visit the schools. We believe it has been the constant aim of prudential committees for the last three or four years, at least, to secure the services of none but first-class teachers. Not that mistakes, common to all humanity, have not at times been made in the selection of teachers, but in the main those selection have been eminently successful, and the district, as a rule, has had the best teaching talent that the means provided would secure. The great difficulty, and often failures, in attempts to supply the places of one of these teachers, when made vacant by reason of wounds from Cupid's arrows, or by other causes, often attest this fact. The best available teachers that can be found not only in Rochester, but wherever they may be, are placed in the village schools, and as a whole are a very superior corps of teachers. True there may be others nearer home equally well qualified, but if so, their abilities have not come into notice. There may be, and doubtless are, those with better literary qualifications than some now employed in the district. But literary qualifications are by no means the only requisite for successful teaching. It is not so much what a teacher knows as what he may be able to impart. One might have all the literary attainments of Newton, and yet, if without the tact and enthusiasm prosessed by the illiterate Cromwell, utterly fail in the school room. No one in any sphere can ever arrive to any great degree of success unless he has a love for and is enthusiastic in his work. But in no calling is this love and enthusiasm more indispensable than in that of the teacher He stamps his own spirit upon his school. If he is all aglow with enthusiasm he imparts the same spirit to his pupils, giving them a zest and relish for school-room duties. Enthusiasm in a school is like "the heat which softens the iron that it may receive an impress from the hammer." One teacher will fail to teach a child the alphabet in two terms of twelve weeks each, another will teach it to the same child in eight or ten days. Enthusiasm in the one and the absence of it in the other, makes the difference; one day's school of the one is worth a week of the other. Teachers, otherwise competent, who are able to infuse their schools with this spirit, are, perhaps, not like "angel visits," but are rare indeed. And, so long as supply governs prices, such teachers will command better pay than ordinary mill and shop hands.

One of the greatest evils in our schools is irregularity of attendance. During the last year twenty per cent., one out of every five of the pupils of our schools, have on an average been absent from them each day. Most of the schools of any standing in the state or country report not more than half that amount. Scholars absent one day in five must lose one fifth of their recitations, and be incapacitated to understand the other four-fifths. Thus they not only throw away their own schooling, but work an injury to all their classmates by retarding their progress. If parents would correct this evil, and that of tardiness as well, for both of which in the main they are accountable, we feel sure there would be less occasion to disparage our schools or teachers.

REMARKS.

The last year of the English Department is designed more especially for students wishing to prepare for teaching. Especial attention is to be given to the Theory and Practice of Teaching. Students of the English and Classical Department can avail themselves of its advantages, by adopting the Normal as their Optional studies throughout the year.

The number of Optional studies allowed each class is not to exceed two.

Students of the English Department, not desiring to prepare for teaching, will be allowed to graduate at the close of the third year. Graduates of any of the departments will receive suitable Diplomas.

One class of the High School as now constituted, properly belongs to the Grammar School, and their studies are not prescribed in the foregoing course, but are to be found in the Grammar School course of study.
